

CERTIFICATE OF COMPLETION

Joachim LaValley

FP0051 - DSA: Creating and Using Rubrics

completed on Sunday, Apr 19, 2015

HOURS: 2.00

LEARNING DESCRIPTION

In this module, you will be provided an overview with illustrated examples of the different types of rubrics as well as their benefits and limitations; learn how to create your own high-quality analytic rubrics; increase your understanding by critiquing rubrics for quality; learn how to use your critique to revise and strengthen your rubrics; and see illustrations of some of the key ways rubrics are used to support learning, both in your classroom and at the school and district levels.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

- Understand the types of rubrics as well as their benefits and limitations.
- Create a high-quality, analytic rubric.
- Critique rubrics for quality.
- Understand the uses of rubrics to advance learning.